NEARLY 400 MINERS PERISHED.

Terrible Disaster in Monogah, West Virginia-141 Bodies Have Been Recov-

One of the most terrible disasters in the distory of American mining took place Friday in Monogah, W. Va., when between 250 and 400 men perished as a resuit of explosions in mines known locally as Nos. 6 and 8. Only five men escaped through the air shafts. Up to Tuesday 111 bodies had been recovered. The explosion occurred in the forenoon after the day force had gone to work in the two mines of the Consolidated Commercial company, which are on opposite sides of the river but merged in their underground workings. The men who escaped are workings. The men who escaped are unable to give any intelligent report of the disaster. They knew that men back of them were making a frantic struggle for liberry but those deep in the mines were caught by the cave-in following the explosion. dosion. The ventilating system was errupted and the mines soon filled with deadly gases. The two mines employed 1000 men, working in two shifts, 500 each day and night, but the full force did not go to work Friday.

GOLDEN WEDDING CELEBRATION.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Richardson, Formerly of Brattleboro, Honored In Princeton, III.

Princeton, III.

The celebration of the fiftleth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Richardson, held at their home on South street Monday of this week, was an event of deep interest to a great many people in Princeton and Bureau county, for Mr. and Mrs. Richardson are not only old and highly esteemed residents of Princeton, but they have endeared themselves to all during their long and useful lives in this community. Consequently, the congratulations on their golden wedding anniversary were many and hearty, coming not alone from the older people among whem their closer friends are naturally found, but also from held there last week.

The themes of the services next Sunday will be respectively, "Christian Fellowship and "High Places."

radiated cheer and comfort upon all who have come in contact with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson spent the first winter of their married life in Brattleboro. Vt., and the next year came to Bureau county, settling on a farm in Manilus where they lived until as61. Then Mr. Richardson entered the employ of the government and they removed to St. Louis, where they remained until the class. Louis, where they remained until the close of the war. They again made their home in Brattlebero, from 1868 until 1869, when they returned to Illinois and established their residence in Princeton, in the same ome they now occupy.

Five children were born to Mr and Mrs.
Richardson, as follows: Elizabeth, now
Mrs. J. T. Gariand, of Minneapolis; Harry (deceased); Oscar, (died in infancy); Charles P. of Spokane, Wash., and Anne.
now Mrs. H. F. Luers, of Gwatonna, Minn.
The wedding celebration itself was a very informal and quiet affair but was nowed the loss of counterpolis which becomes none the less an occasion which brought happiness to all who were privileged to participate therein. It was marked by the presence of the two daughters of the bride and groom of fifty years and their huseands, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Garland hispands, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Garland of Minneapolis, and Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Luers of Owatonna, Minn.; and two grandchildren, Charles and Irene Victoria Luers, aged five and four years respectively. There were also present Mrs. Richardson's sister. Mrs. R. S. Hall, of Indianapolis, who was present at the wedding fire years and Mrs. Lucretic ding fifty years ago, and Mrs. Lucretia Green, of Kansas City, an old friend and neighbor in St. Louis during the war-time days. These all joined in a family oin among the many who have enjoyed its hospitality. The absence of the only son, Charles P. Mr. Richardson was the son of Isaiah and Betsey Richardson and was born No-vember 15, 1825, in Brattleboro, Vt. At the age of 23 he was interested in the California gold discoveries and became one of the famous "forty-niners," making the 234 day voyage by sailing vessel around Cape Horn. Mr. Richardson remained in California for eight years, engaging in mining and in other business enterprises as well, making good use of the business opportunities which his keen and prac-tical mind recognized, and achieving more than ordinary success. Of his life after his return from California a general out-line has been given. Mr. Richardson dur-ing his life in Princeton has made a name for himself as a generous and pub-lic-spirited citizen, interesting himself in the things which made for Princeton's adcancement commercial, moral, and intel-ectual, and though retiring in habits and quiet in manner, unconsciously building up for himself an enviable reputation as a citizen and business man.
